Gov. Nash and Col. Kilbourne rode side by side yesterday in the Centennial celebration at Springfield. They seem to be getting along splendidly with their brother act.

The collapse of the Phillips corn pool has caused the Chicago Board of Trade to adopt a strong resolution telling what bad things pools are and how they ought to be reprobated on all occasions. Most Boards of Trade take pleasure in fishing behind the net.

The Western wheat yield is about 150,000,000 bushels greater than that of last year. It is probable that in spite of the damage to the corn crop the farmers will be able to get along until next season without appealing for the aid or consent of any other nation.

There will be a fusion of Democratic, Populist and Independent Republican forces in Nebraska in next fall's campaign. Mr. Bryan advising that this be done. It isn't necessary to adopt resolutions in Nebraska to express the sentiment of the voters toward the Kansas City platform.

Alabama has just burned a negro at the stake. The Northern editors will have to do their rasping and moralizing all over again, and the apologetic Southern editors will repeat what they have often said before, to the effect that human nature is not regulated by geography. And there the affair will end.

A Columbus dispatch announces that Gov. Nash will go to Put-in-Bay "to put himself in condition" for the campaign. It is to be hoped that the Governor will not adopt Gus Ruhl's methods of putting himself in condition. Who would call out the militia if he mixes things up too lively in his fight with Col. Kilbourne?

Michigan's Republicans, in their convention Wednesday endorsed the party's protective tariff policy but favored such changes as may from time to time become advisable "through the progress of our industries and their changing relations to the commerce of the world." This plank reads as if some of Congressman Babcock's friends had a hand in writing it. But it fails to agree with the latest deliverance from Canton.

The platitudinous trust plank adopted by the Michigan Republican convention yesterday will bring the usual smile to the trust magnates who feel themselves secure in the favor of the Administration. It "asserts the sovereignty of the people over all corporations and aggregations of capital, and the right to protect the individual and society from abuse of the power which great combinations of capital wield." The people are supreme, but they have a habit of farming out their sovereignty to agents who do some very queer things in the popular name.

Barberton is thinking of emerging from the village class and putting on certain airs which pertain to a city. This proposed change amounts to an invitation to Barberton's property owners to pay more taxes—even though the Barberton tax rate is now higher than that of any corporation in the county. The adoption of a city classification simply means enlarged opportunities for Barberton officials to tax the people of their city—opportunities which now are more or less circumscribed by the laws prohibiting excessive village taxation unless extraordinary tax measures first be submitted to a vote of the people.

WISE and Otherwise.

A day off is no novelty with the Board.

Will the Council take the Mayor's advice?

Councilmen now know the Mayor's opinion.

No shooting affairs have yet been reported from Euclid Beach park.

"Closed all day," is a sign on the doors of offices at the City Building. 'Nuf sed.

Maybe Rial M. Smith is thinking of getting into the race for City Commissioner.

The "Groeters" will have to do more hustling to get onto the official ballot than the Prohibitionists.

The question of school clothes is a more serious proposition to Mary's mother than it is to Willie's papa.

Mayor Doyle says "The wrong spirit seems to animate the members of the City Council." Certain spirits are somewhat calculated to be animating.

If there is any order, shop, club or society of any kind in Akron which has not yet held a picnic or arranged for one, it can win great notoriety by announcing itself.

The whole number of prisoners confined in Ohio jails the past year was 13,892. And yet it is a common expression that not all the people are in jail who should be.

The Texas Legislature has officially recognized the shirtwaist. That body has just adopted a resolution permitting members to participate in the proceedings in their shirt sleeves. Unless reports be wrong, the shirt waist came into Texas at the time of the white man's invasion of the state, and required no official recognition. This latter day affair is a commentary on the growth of red tape.

Miss Mildred A. Mason, stenographer for the City Clerk and Commissioners, tells a story on one of her lady friends, which is complete all but the name, which Miss Mason will not give. "Ever since she began housekeeping some 20 years ago," said Millie, "she had in her possession a pin and needle cushion, which, apparently, could not be worn out. The other day she got disgusted with the cushion and tore it open, and how many needles do you suppose she found in it?"

Commissioner McMillen said 129; Commissioner Houser said 130, and a Democrat reporter guessed 211. "You're all wrong," replied Millie. "There were just 212."

The New York Telegraph thus notices an account of a dull day at Wooster:

From Wooster, O.: Oliver Mock, a reputable farmer, is one of those who saw the snake. He said he was crossing his meadow when he saw a path that looked as if a log of wood had been dragged through the grass.

He followed the trail into a thicket and at the edge of a small stream saw the snake. It reared up its head until it was fully five feet above the ground. Mr. Mock hurled a chunk of wood at the reptile and it hurried away with tremendous speed. Mr. Mock says the snake was fully 25 feet long. If Mr. Mock were not a "reputable farmer" this news might be regarded as alarming. As he is in that class Ohio is safe.

SIXTY DAYS

Will See the Tuscarawas Ditch Complete.

(Special Correspondence.)

Barberton, Aug. 7.—(Sp.)—On the completion of the Tuscarawas ditch, for which the grading has already begun, the flats from which the course of the river will be diverted by the ditch will be filled, graded and turned to good use as building and factory sites. Very little of the land is submerged and its redemption will not require a great amount of work. The work will be completed in 60 days if no accident occurs.

GOLD END

Of the 16 to 1
Proposition.Growers of Sweet Corn
Want It.The Crop Is Short and Prices High.The Supply Will Soon be Exhausted.

A short crop of sweet corn this season has made many market gardeners hustle and scrape to fill their orders.

A few however, have had plenty and have placed theirs all on the market at once, so that up to the present time local grocers have had no trouble in securing plenty of corn—at an advanced price.

The fact of the short crop will soon make the present plenty an improbable memory, and the gardeners who still have a few ears of sweet corn will want to establish them at the gold end of 16 to 1. Farmers already receive 15 cents per dozen for the much desired roasting ear and give only because the supply will soon be used up.

P. T. Thomas, Sumterville, Ala.: "I was suffering from dyspepsia when I commenced taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I took several bottles and can digest anything." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only preparation containing all the natural digestive fluids. It gives weak stomachs entire rest, restoring their natural condition.

GETTING READY

Cleveland Preparing For Guests.G. A. R. Encampment Promises to be the Biggest Known.

Cleveland is preparing to entertain the G. A. R. Encampment, scheduled for there in September.

Usually, when the place of a G. A. R. Encampment has been decided on, the decision has been reached long enough before the actual occurrence of the event to permit the city decided upon to make all necessary preparations for the comfort and entertainment of guests. At every other G. A. R. Encampment, the city in which it was held knew of the event at least six months earlier than has been the case this time. Still, Cleveland is very large. Her capacity for the entertainment of the veterans will be hard to overtax and it is believed that there will be no confusion or inconvenience when the time arrives and the crowds pour into the Forest City.

This will be, without doubt, the biggest Encampment the G. A. R. will ever have. The exposition at Buffalo will prove an additional drawing card. Akron's representation at the encampment will be larger than ever before, on account of the short distance it will be necessary to travel. Local veterans are preparing and look forward with a great deal of anticipation to the event.

EXCURSIONS

And Picnics Keep the Railroads Busy.

Excursions continue to hold the boards with the railroad people whose lines run through Akron. The C. A. &amp; C. handled three large ones Wednesday and has a prospect of several more in the immediate future. The Erie runs its full share and the C. T. &amp; V. has handled crowds of all sorts and dimensions to and from Cottage Grove. A Wadsworth excursion came in over the Erie this morning and continued to Silver Lake over the C. A. &amp; C.

Co. "I" of the Eighth Regiment, O. N. G., located at Millersburg, picnics at the same place today, and the Sunday Schools of Toronto, O., are also picnicking at the lake. The picnic and excursion business of the local roads has never been better. Akron's many pleasure resorts have drawn crowds from afar, and only the picnics of our own city and its immediate vicinity have been to points remote from Akron. Akron people have a contempt for their own beautiful resorts, born of continued familiarity, and usually arrange their picnics for some point distant from the city.

HIS WIFE.

Victim of Last Night's Shooting
Accused Her, Then Died.

Youngstown, O., Aug. 8.—(Sp.)—James Allen, the victim of last night's mysterious shooting, died this morning. On his death bed he accused his wife of the murder. The wife declared he committed suicide. They quarrelled frequently. Allen was once before the Probate Court on a lunacy charge, but was not held. The woman is under arrest.

AERIAL TRUCK.

It Was Given a Trial Wednesday Morning.

The new aerial truck which has been purchased for use at No. 5 engine house was given a trial Wednesday. The work was not so much a trial of the truck as an effort to familiarize the men with its workings. The ladders were erected at different angles and the men were sent up and down repeatedly.

Much care must be exercised to keep the machine from tipping when in use. The ladders must be adjusted according to rule or there will be trouble. When the arrangements are complete five men will be assigned to work the truck. The trial was a perfect success.

In cases of cough or croup give the little one One Minute Cough Cure. Then rest easy and have no fear. The child will be all right in a little while. It never fails. Pleasant to take, always safe, sure, and almost instantaneous.

SAVED

From Going to WorkhouseFor the Time Being, at Least.Pat Ryan Rescued From a Constable.Habeas Corpus Case to be Heard Friday.

In the twinkling of an eye Pat Ryan was rescued from Constable John Vosburg Thursday and returned to the county jail. The constable was on the point of taking him to the Canton workhouse, and had a cab ready at the jail door.

When Ryan was sentenced for gill-netting by Squire Hoffman, the sentence was 30 days in the workhouse—not in jail. As the fine and costs have never been paid, Squire Hoffman ordered Ryan taken to the workhouse.

Attorney S. G. Rogers, Ryan's counsel, heard what was going on Thursday, and rescued his client just in the nick of time on habeas corpus proceedings. Judge Kohler ordered a stay of proceedings until Friday, when the petition for habeas corpus will be heard. It alleges that Ryan is being unlawfully confined.

Mrs. S. H. Allport, Johnstown, Pa., says: "Our little girl almost strangled to death with croup. The doctors said she couldn't live, but she was instantly relieved by One Minute Cough Cure."

DON'T WANT IT.

Mr. Siebert Would Not be a Dog-Catcher.

"No, sir, I don't want the job," said Wm. Siebert Thursday, referring to the vacancy in the dog-catcher's office. "I wouldn't have it for $100 a month if I had to catch dogs on a commission. I will not have the job unless they make me the same as a policeman, and pay a regular salary."

A. H. Davis, Mt. Sterling, Ia., writes: "I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years, but two one dollar bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure." A. Warner, J. M. Laffer and J. Lamparter &amp; Co.

LUCKY.

Found Purse and $200.Fifty People Stepped
Over ItBut Only the Owner Picked It Up.

Mr. Wm. Washburn, a milk dealer, living west of Akron, stopped at Kaufmann's grocery at the Five Points Tuesday morning after completing his route, and made some purchases. Having done his buying he drove to his home. When he arrived there he found that his pocketbook which contained $200, had disappeared.

Mr. Washburn at once hitched up and returned to Akron, scanning the road closely.

He entered Kaufmann's grocery and was immeasurably relieved to find the purse on the floor near where he had stood when making his purchases. Several hours had elapsed since its loss. Fifty people had kicked it or stepped over it, but Mr. Washburn's wallet was as secure as though the vault of a National bank had been its resting place, and he went his way rejoicing.

To Save Her Child.

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Gallego, of LaGrange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in sores, bruises, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, scald and piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by all druggists.

SUNCREST.

Notice the extraordinary offer made by Mr. Walter B. Perkins on page five of today's issue. Nothing like it has ever been made in the history of Akron. Read it through very carefully, and note its liberality.

Will Tour District.

Prohibitionists expect a team of college students in Akron next week to start the work of the campaign. The students will tour the district holding meetings.

O. O. Buck, Boerne, Ark., says: I was troubled with constipation until I bought DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Since then have been entirely cured of my old complaint. I recommend them.

A LITTLE BIG WASTE.

DISTINGUISH between economy and wisdom. Sitting at home to save shoe-leather is economy, but it is scarcely wisdom. In the same way, doing without Ivory Soap is economy but it isn't wise; your risks are greater than all possible saving. Every cheap soap contains free alkali. Now, free alkali will eat its way through the new oil cloth on the kitchen floor. Imagine, then, what it will do in a single Monday's washing! Is such economy wise?
